For Licence to be active for all levels

Judge must participate in a minimum of 1 (one) competition (minimum category B) within one year of passing the judge's exam (level). Judge has to attend the judge's course (deep technique course or international judge's course without exam) once every three (3) years.

The transition model for keeping judge license: Judge who did the judge course in 2025, next needed in 2028. If done in 2024, next needed in 2027.

Reduction or loss of Judging level

All international IFAGG judges must participate in the IFAGG International Judge's Course every three years and in order to keep their license they must participate as a judge in a minimum of 1 (one) international B level competition. If not, the IFAGG Judge will lose one level each year. The only exceptions are listed in the IFAGG Judging Regulations. If there are no competitions during the 1-year period or no judge's courses every three years (counted from when the judge's license exam was passed), the judge must re-take the course and re-take the exam in order to renew the license.

1st level → 2nd level

2nd level → 3rd level

3rd level → 4th level

4th level → will lose international level

If there are no competitions during the 1-year period (counted from when the judge's license exam was passed), the 4th level judge must re-take the course and re-take the exam in order to renew the license.

Substitution of AGG judging licence requirements

International AGG judging license requirements cannot be substituted with licensing from another sport or any experience from other similar sports. Everyone has to pass the official courses and exams of the IFAGG judging license system.

Counting the competitions for fulfilling the judge's criteria examples:

- A-level competitions in the same days, are counted as 1(one) competition, for example – Challenge cup and World cup.
- B-level competition in the same days is counting as 1 (one) competition.
